

HICKLEBEE'S

extraordinary books for children and adults

Thank you for your interest in working with Hicklebee's! Here's a little information about us:

We are a small team of book enthusiasts dedicated to running one of the best children's bookstores in the country. We're a fun bunch and working with us has a lot of perks, but we also expect a lot of ourselves and each other. We believe in cross training our staff, meaning that everyone knows how to do multiple jobs around the store and is happy to step up when needed. We spend long hours standing and walking, as well as lifting boxes up to 25 lbs. Dusting shelves and handling books is a part of everyone's duties, so we're regularly in contact with dust and printer's ink.

We look for self motivation, love of people, attention to detail and grace under pressure. Every day is a little bit different, and we admire those who can self start and find creative solutions to problems. If this sounds like a good fit for you, fill out the application below and bring it to the store with your cover letter, resume and references.
